More people buy argus C-3 than any other fine 35mm camera

The more you know about precision 35mm cameras, the better you understand the sweeping preference for Argus C-3 for striking color, and black-and-white shots. More than 550,772 satisfied owners are now using the Argus C-3. Familiar to you are the coupled range-finder, the color-corrected f:3.5 lens and the 1/300 shutter for stopping action. Plug-in synchronized flash gives you any-time pictures with C-3. And best of all—you know, through your own experience, the fine results, color or black and white, that every C-3 owner can count on, indoors and out.
